Volume XXXIX

Foreword

*"I am a part of all that I have met;
Yet all experience is an arch where-through
Gleams that untraveled world whose margin fades
Forever and forever when I move."*

Tennyson

We are architects of Fate,
Building on the walls of Time;
Though there are places where our feet
Stumble as we seek to climb.

For the structure that we raise
Life a legacy has willed;
Our todays and yesterdays
Are the stones with which we build.

Let us rake the stony land,
Raise our Arch, and take our stand.

Carve today, then, strong and sure,
With a broad and concrete base;
So, ascending and secure,
Shall tomorrow find its place.

Thus alone can we attain
Wind-blown summits where the eye
Sees the world as one vast plain
And one boundless reach of sky.

THE SENIOR CLASS

PROVISO TOWNSHIP HIGH SCHOOL . . . MAYWOOD, ILLINOIS

A Look into the Future

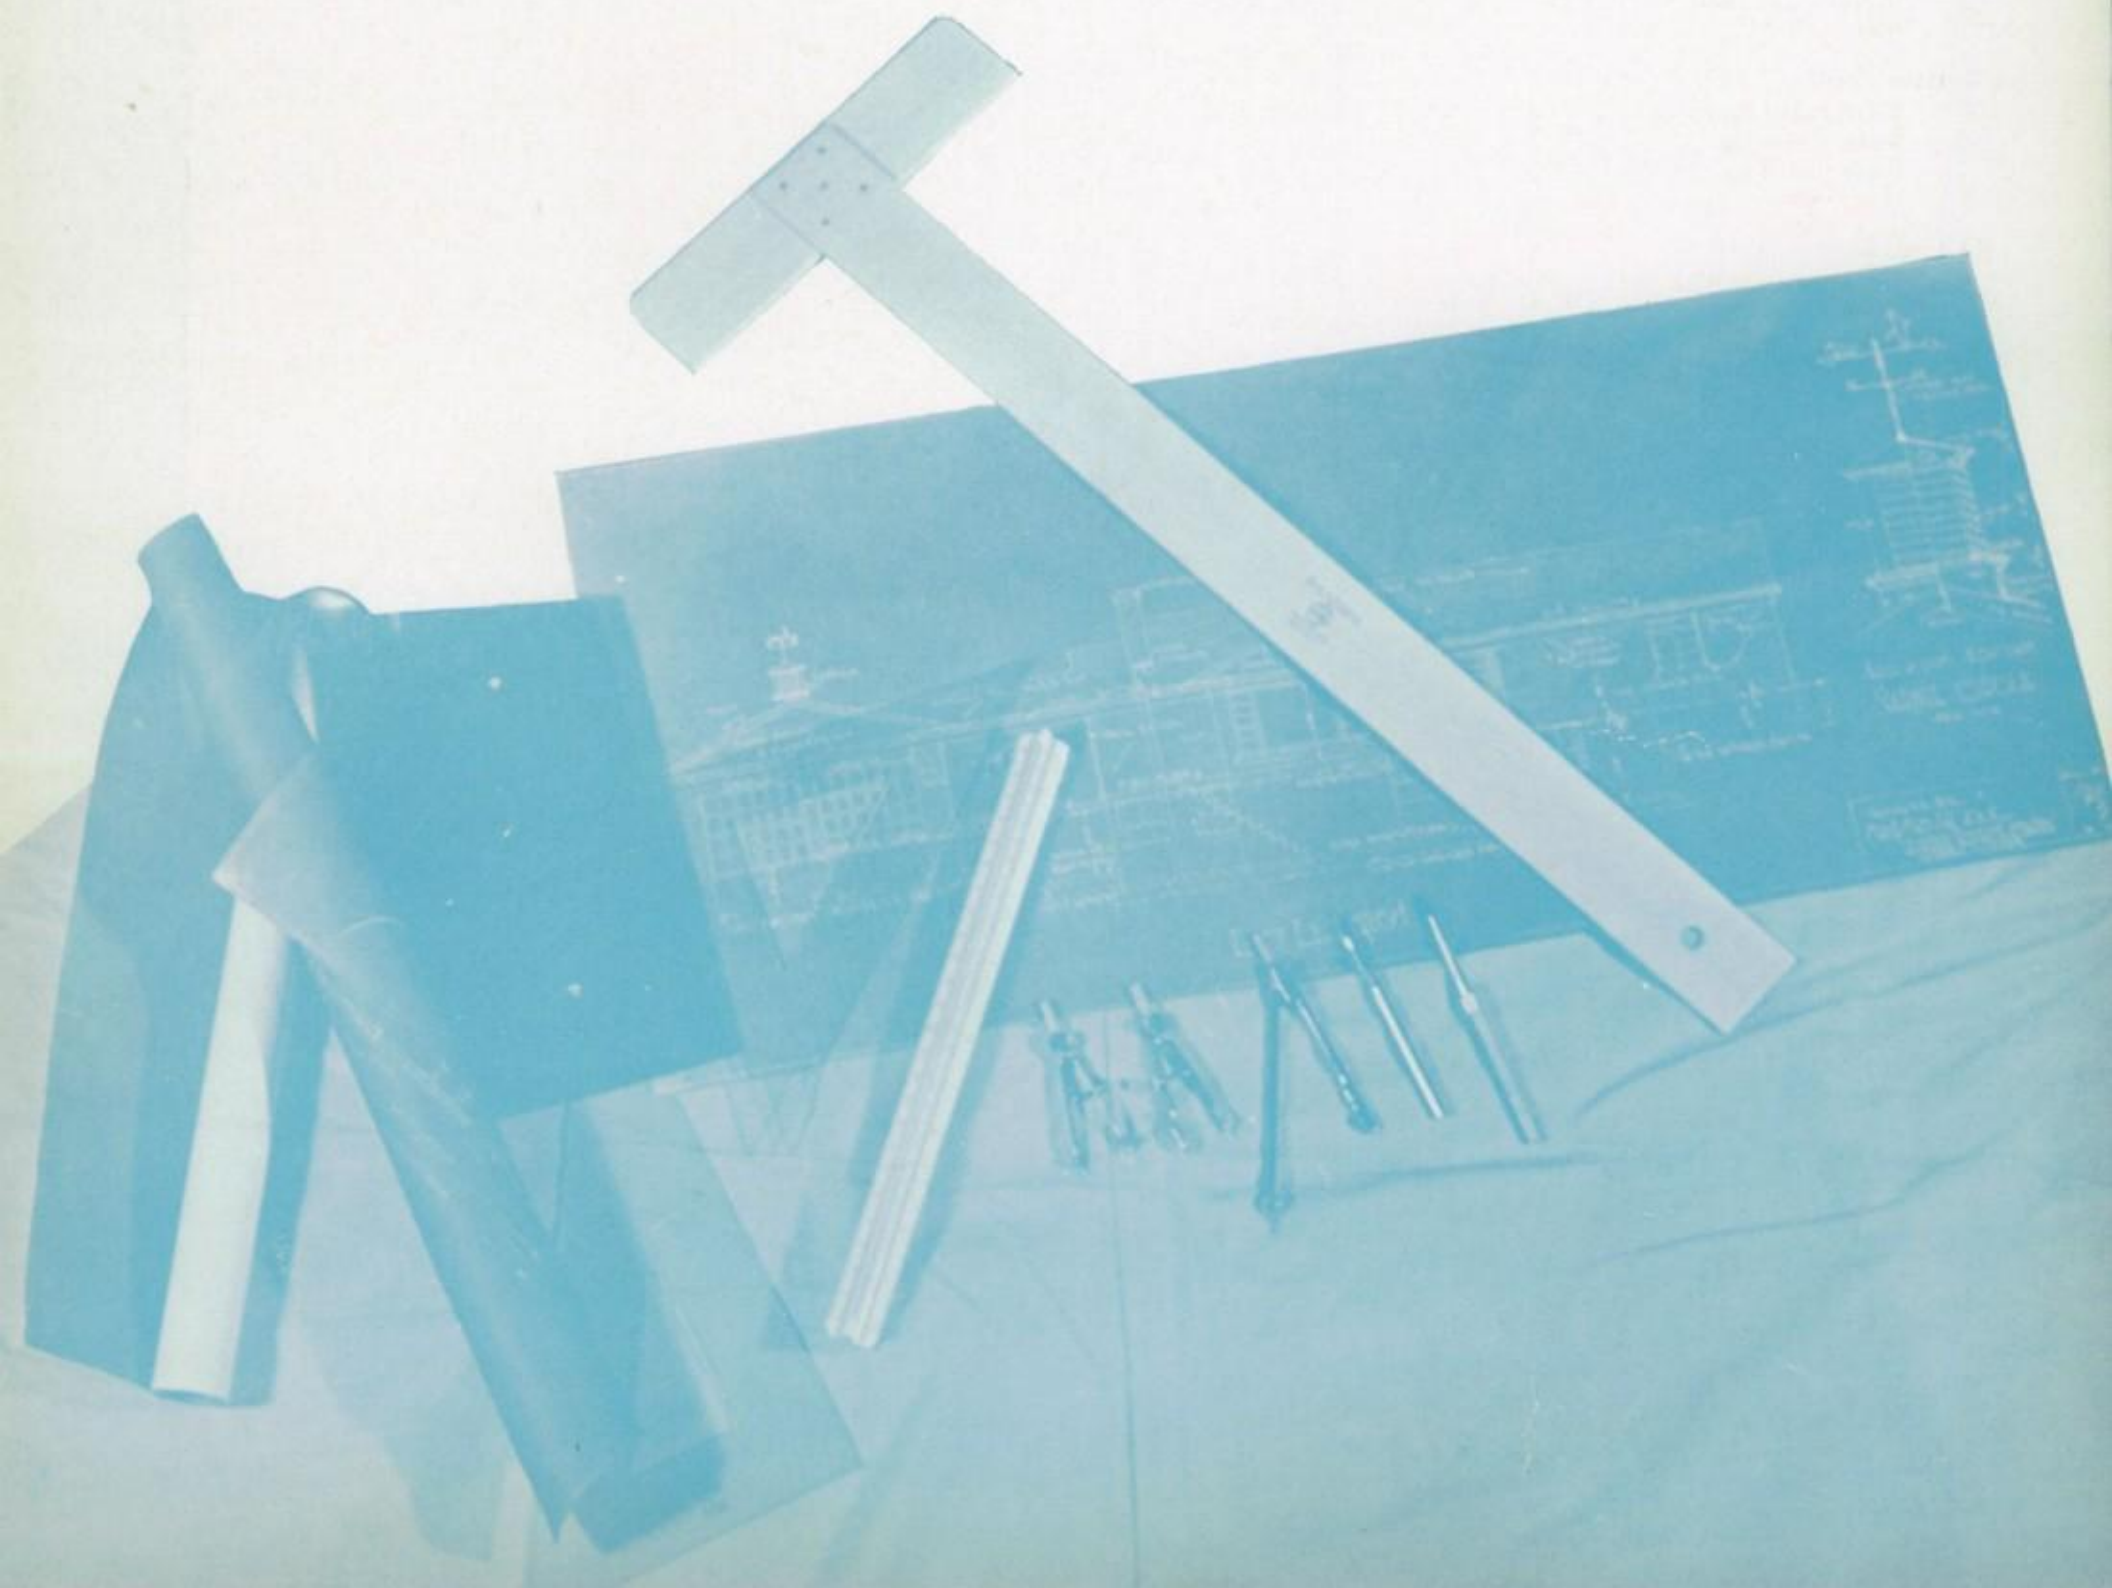

We seniors stand on the brink of new experiences — college, marriage, military service, and a place in the world of business; memories of high school days will follow us through each of these fields of endeavor.

Succeeding senior classes, however, may recall seven-period days and over-crowded classrooms. The walls of our sprawling red-brick building may bulge under an expected enrollment of 4600 in 1958. Various additions, such as a new girls' gymnasium, will spring from Proviso's walls in the coming years.

All these changes will come as a result of surging enrollments. In the school year 1955-56, 100 more students will enter Proviso; the next year will witness the influx of 400 more students; and the following year will bring an additional 500 freshmen.

During this year we have sat in comparatively small classes; enjoyed special laboratory, physical education, and vocational facilities; and received individual aid from our faculty. In addition, we have had access to the extra-curricular opportunities which a large school offers.

We of the class of '55 must not lose sight of the educational advances that we have experienced. Indeed, instead of remaining content with the standards of today, we must foster a demand for the continuation of educational advancement.

*"Come, my friends,
'Tis not too late to seek a newer world.
Push off, and sitting well in order smite
The sounding furrows; for my purpose holds to sail beyond the sunset, and the baths
Of all the western stars, until I die."*

In our daily studies and activities at Proviso, we students add to a rapidly growing storehouse of knowledge. Today we work and play confidently, guided by capable administrators, generous teachers and counselors. Tomorrow we go forth into the world, aided only by the wisdom we have accumulated throughout our school days.

The people of Proviso Township are well represented by the Board of Education, supervisors of the business phase of Proviso High School.

Planning the budget, selecting new teachers, and improving school property are the main duties of the Board. Before school began this fall, the Board modernized the main office, added new type windows in the old building, installed fluorescent lighting, and rejuvenated the auto shop.

Superintendent's Message

The Provi has extended to me the privilege of writing a message to the students of Proviso. I could easily say that, upon graduation from this high school, you will be educated, you will be ready to take your place in society, and your problems will be solved. If I were to say that, I certainly should be giving the impression that you are a finished product. I am sure all of you realize that high school is only a step in the process of education and growth, and that what you do with the step and its effect upon you and on those with whom you associate is most important.

This high school, like others, offers students the opportunity to gain certain traits and characteristics that are conducive to a wholesome life and good living. You as an individual have the privilege of attending a school that is interested in your welfare, in your development, and in what you will become. During your four years of high school, you will be associated with faculty and students and allied curricular activities, all of which are geared to making the best possible citizen out of you. It, therefore, is your responsibility to use your ability not only to take what is here for you but also to develop yourself to the highest possible point of perfection.

The poet has said, "I am a part of all that I have met." If you will take advantage of every learning opportunity that presents itself to you, if you will develop the motto that "One's aims should exceed one's goals," if you will treat others as you would like others to treat you, if you will be the citizen that you would like to be associated with, then this high school will have fulfilled its obligation and have achieved its purpose.

Are you a part of all that you have met?

LeRoy J. Knoeppel

Mrs. Frieda Zochert is Superintendent Knoeppel's personal secretary. She schedules all his appointments, handles his professional correspondence, teachers' certification and records, and plans all functions concerning school activities and facilities.

Superintendent LeRoy J. Knoeppel

A freshman at Proviso is Mr. LeRoy J. Knoeppel, appointed in 1954 to succeed Dr. Earl R. Sifert, who resigned to become chief educational director of American dependents in Germany and France. Since 1927 Mr. Knoeppel has served as athletic director or superintendent at Hamilton, at Greenville, and most recently at Arlington Heights. The Proviso board of education selected him from a list of fifty outstanding midwestern educators.

ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT

As assistant superintendent of Proviso, Charles C. Taggart makes use of his remarkable talents in administration. After playing this role for nineteen years, he has accumulated a storehouse of knowledge about Proviso, its faculty and its students. Undoubtedly this knowledge enhances his ability to deal better with the organization of the school, teacher assignments, and student assignments. One of the original members of the Association of College Admission Counselors, Mr. Taggart is also instrumental in guiding students through their decisions in regard to college entrance and scholarship application.

ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT

Well-qualified by his thirty-seven years of service, Mr. V. G. Catlin this year assumed the position of administrative assistant. Varied are his duties. Foremost among them is the supervision of the testing program, the work including administration and scoring of examinations for college entrance and other purposes. Other tasks include lunch and social room supervision, co-direction of the hall monitoring system, guidance of curriculum development, ministration of school committees, and control of daily bulletins and bulletin boards. Mr. Catlin is also head of the science department.

BUSINESS OFFICE

Proviso's life blood, its finance, pulsates steadily in and out of the business office. Between thousand-dollar bills and two-cent post cards are found student insurance claims, board accounts, student lunch programs, and a multitude of other bills.

Emma Johnson represents an important factor in the financial life of Proviso as she governs the distribution of 38,000 textbooks and coordinates the sale of workbooks.

English Department

"Literature of all ages—poetry, drama, story, and biography—is a many sided prism, illuminating human nature of yesterday and today, and deepening student appreciation of its many facets."

Grace Trigg

In the communication of knowledge and skills that comprises the educational process, language is paramount. It sets man apart from all other species by allowing him to pass to his children, in the form of his writings, the collected wisdom and experience of all ages. Through the mastery of English we can better express our thoughts, both oral and written, that others may receive the message we wish to convey.

Speech Department

"An effective interpretation of the written word, a logical and forceful presentation of one's point of view, the artistic representation of individuals in a play are the end results of the character-building features of the speech department."

M. W. Immel

The inarticulate youth in the world today will not maintain equal footing with the person who is versed in the processes of self-expression, forming reasons, making inductions, drawing conclusions, and applying them to the case at hand. Only by an intense application to the problems of our day and an unceasing effort to utilize the most effective method of presentation can the modern student fulfill his duty to his contemporaries and to posterity.

Language Department

"In this atomic age, when the United States is taking a leading role in fostering closer cooperation and a better understanding among the free nations of the world, it is of vital importance to all Americans that the youth of America be given an opportunity to learn the language, customs, and philosophies of other peoples."

Frances Gaspill

With this opportunity rises a yearning desire to follow knowledge, broadly conceived, beyond the utmost bound of human thought. As a result, the youth develops a free mind, a free heart; a soul strong in the will to strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield. By these enlargements the youth creates a guide to the philosophic concept of the world, and prepares himself to stand and take his place in this muddled society.

Social Studies Department

"The social studies department helps the student not only through the course content but also by constant emphasis on student growth as an individual and as an effective citizen in a democratic society."

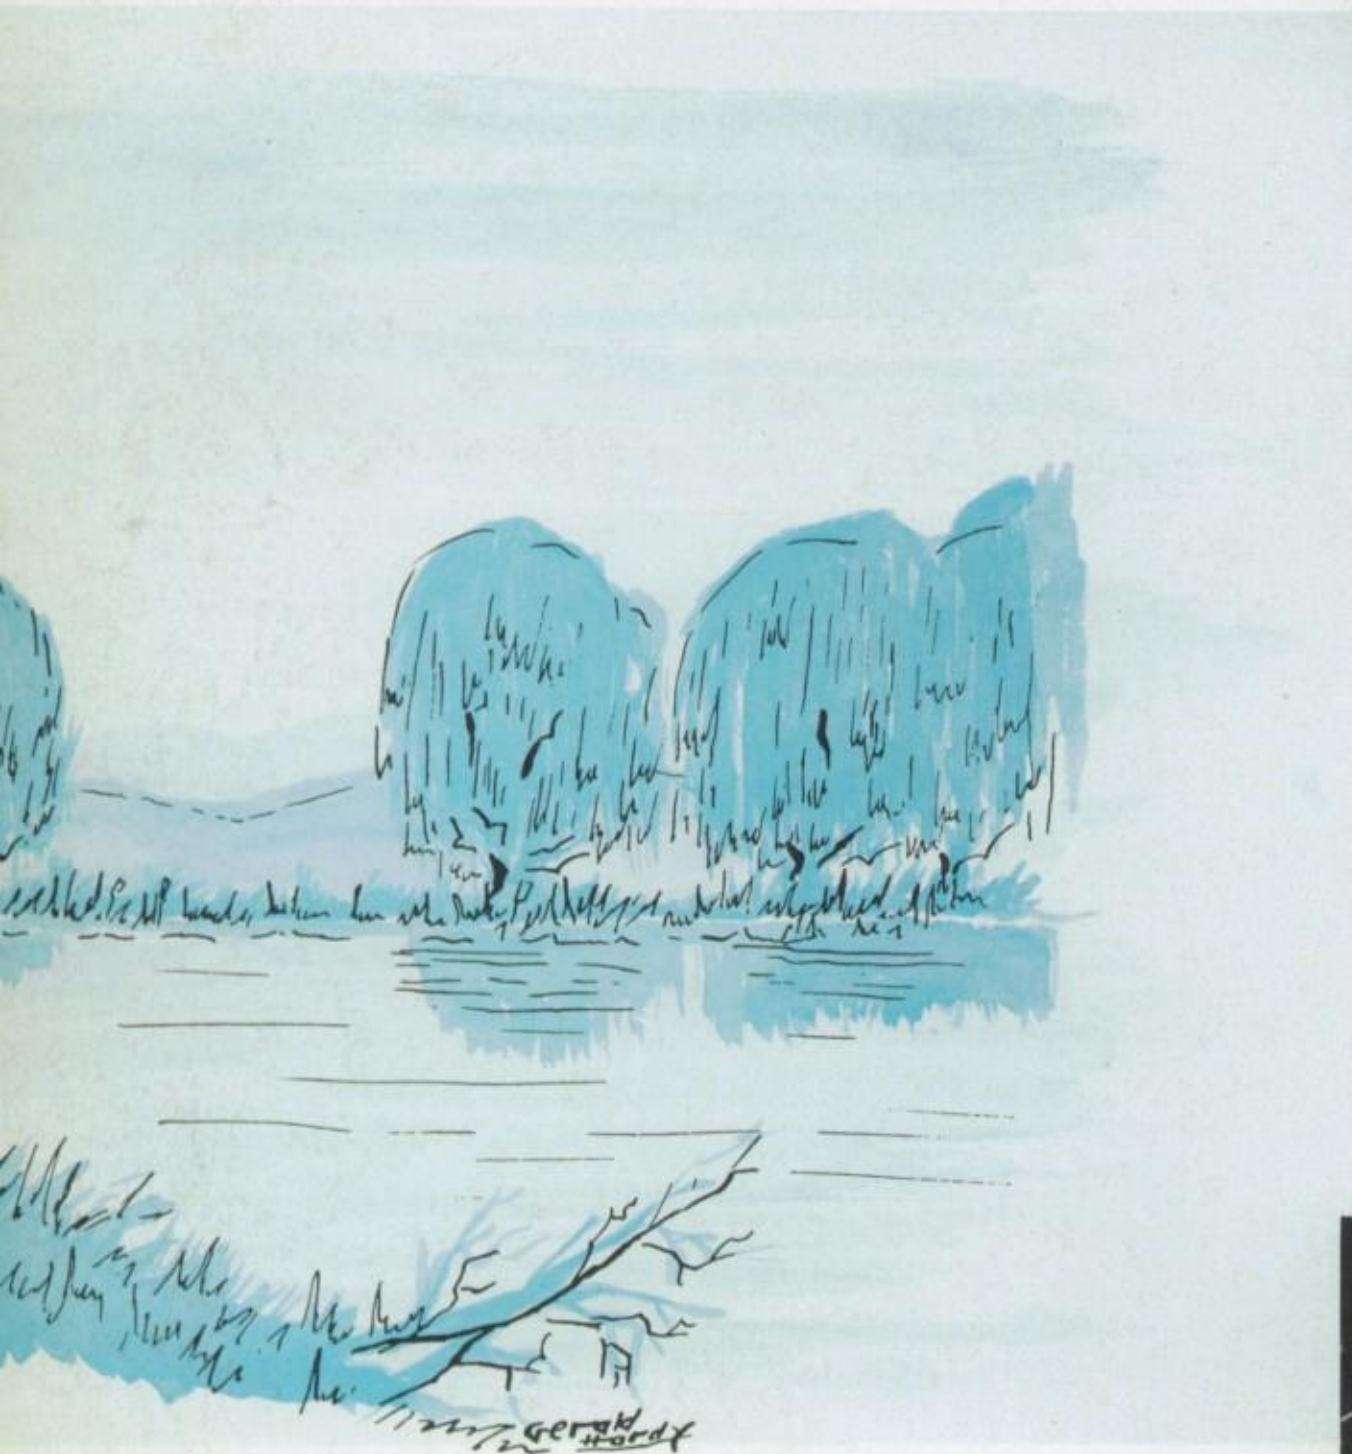

E. W. Stubbs

Democracy, theocracy, monarchy, anarchy, fascism, communism . . . what do they mean? Are they good or bad? Which system of government is best? It is our responsibility to answer these questions and others like them, and we must answer them in a way that will prove beneficial to ourselves and to our children.

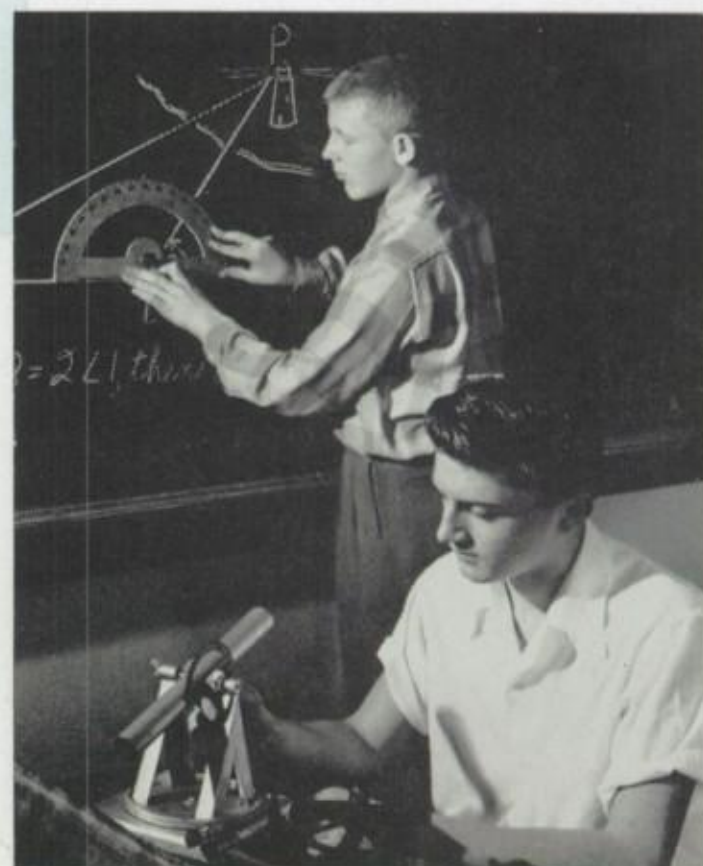

Mathematics Department

"The science of numbers . . . a great instrument of precision . . . a language . . . symbolic thinking . . . indirect measurement . . . the science of relationships . . . a logical thinking . . . a method of problem solving . . . the key with which man conquers the universe."

Martha Hildebrandt

Mathematics teaches the gathering, organizing, generalizing of information and its application to new situations. It makes the student lust after knowledge, fills him with a longing to fathom the cause of things and employ his own powers independently, and awakens the spirit of individual inquiry, creating certainty and assurance. Mathematics engages, it fructifies, quickens, compels attention, and is as circumspect as inventive, inducing courage and self-confidence as well as modesty and submission to truth. Mathematics, the Queen of Science.

$$y = 2 \cos \theta$$

$$y = \sin 2\theta.$$

$$2 \cos \theta = \sin 2\theta.$$

$$2 \cos \theta - 2 \sin \theta \cos \theta =$$

$$2\theta(1 - \sin \theta) = 0.$$

$$\theta = 0$$

$$\theta = \frac{\pi}{2} \left(\theta = \frac{3\pi}{2} \right)$$

$$1 = 0 \quad y = 0$$

Science Department

"Science: The backbone of a strong nation. It is the youthful, throbbing tonic of vitalizing research, the concentrated quest for new truths."
V. G. Catlin

Numerous elementary problems ironically baffle the creature who has learned to weigh stars and to tamper with the very fabric of his universe. Though these problems doggedly sidestep the arrows of scientific investigation, ultimately they will be solved. In order to retain supremacy in the field of science, man must nourish and stimulate creative thinking. By presenting a well-balanced program of study and introducing to the student the marvels of his environment, humanity will attain its objective.

Commercial Department

"A knowledge of the language of business . . . vocational efficiency . . . proficiency in business skills . . . warmth in personal relationships."

Harvey Welsh

The commercial student formulates basic understandings of the mature world through his participation in classroom experiments with business techniques. In creating habits of quality, regularity, and punctuality, he sets a course running parallel to that of modern business. Activated by the twin goals of self-betterment and economic security, the student prepares for a life of expanded responsibility and interests. Entering, then, the realistic world of business, he takes with him the fundamental requisites for success.

Art Department

Creative expression, highest of human abilities, requires acute observation, imagination, and practice in art forms. It records for posterity man's noblest ideas and produces expressions of beauty to last through the ages.

"The prime objectives of courses offered in the Department of Fine Arts center around the development of skills, values, and an awareness of art as it relates to contemporary living. Besides the acquisition of art skills, the student personally acquires a sensitivity to that which is beautiful and a tolerance of that which is different."

Nicholas Ernest

Music Department

"To catch the song and rhythm of life and to translate them into music which can be heard and appreciated by human ears—these are the talents of the musician."

R. A. Davis

Resounding arias, straining strings, the heartbeat of drums are but the result of integrated feeling. The silver tones of a symphony slip by the unaware, slide unnoticed past the unprepared, but fall sweetly on the ears of the appreciative. For music is an art: a means of creating and expressing melodies that will linger long in our hearts.

Home Economics Department

"Successful family living and individual happiness, for the present and the future, are the 'stars' to which home economics is 'hitched.'"

Wilma Hofert

Amid cheerful and attractive surroundings, future homemakers absorb a wealth of practical information. They learn how to make their homes and lives function smoothly and efficiently through a wise use of time, energy, and money. Receiving the recipe for happy and healthful living, they remember to season daily activities with a sprinkling of understanding and cooperation.

Industrial Arts Department

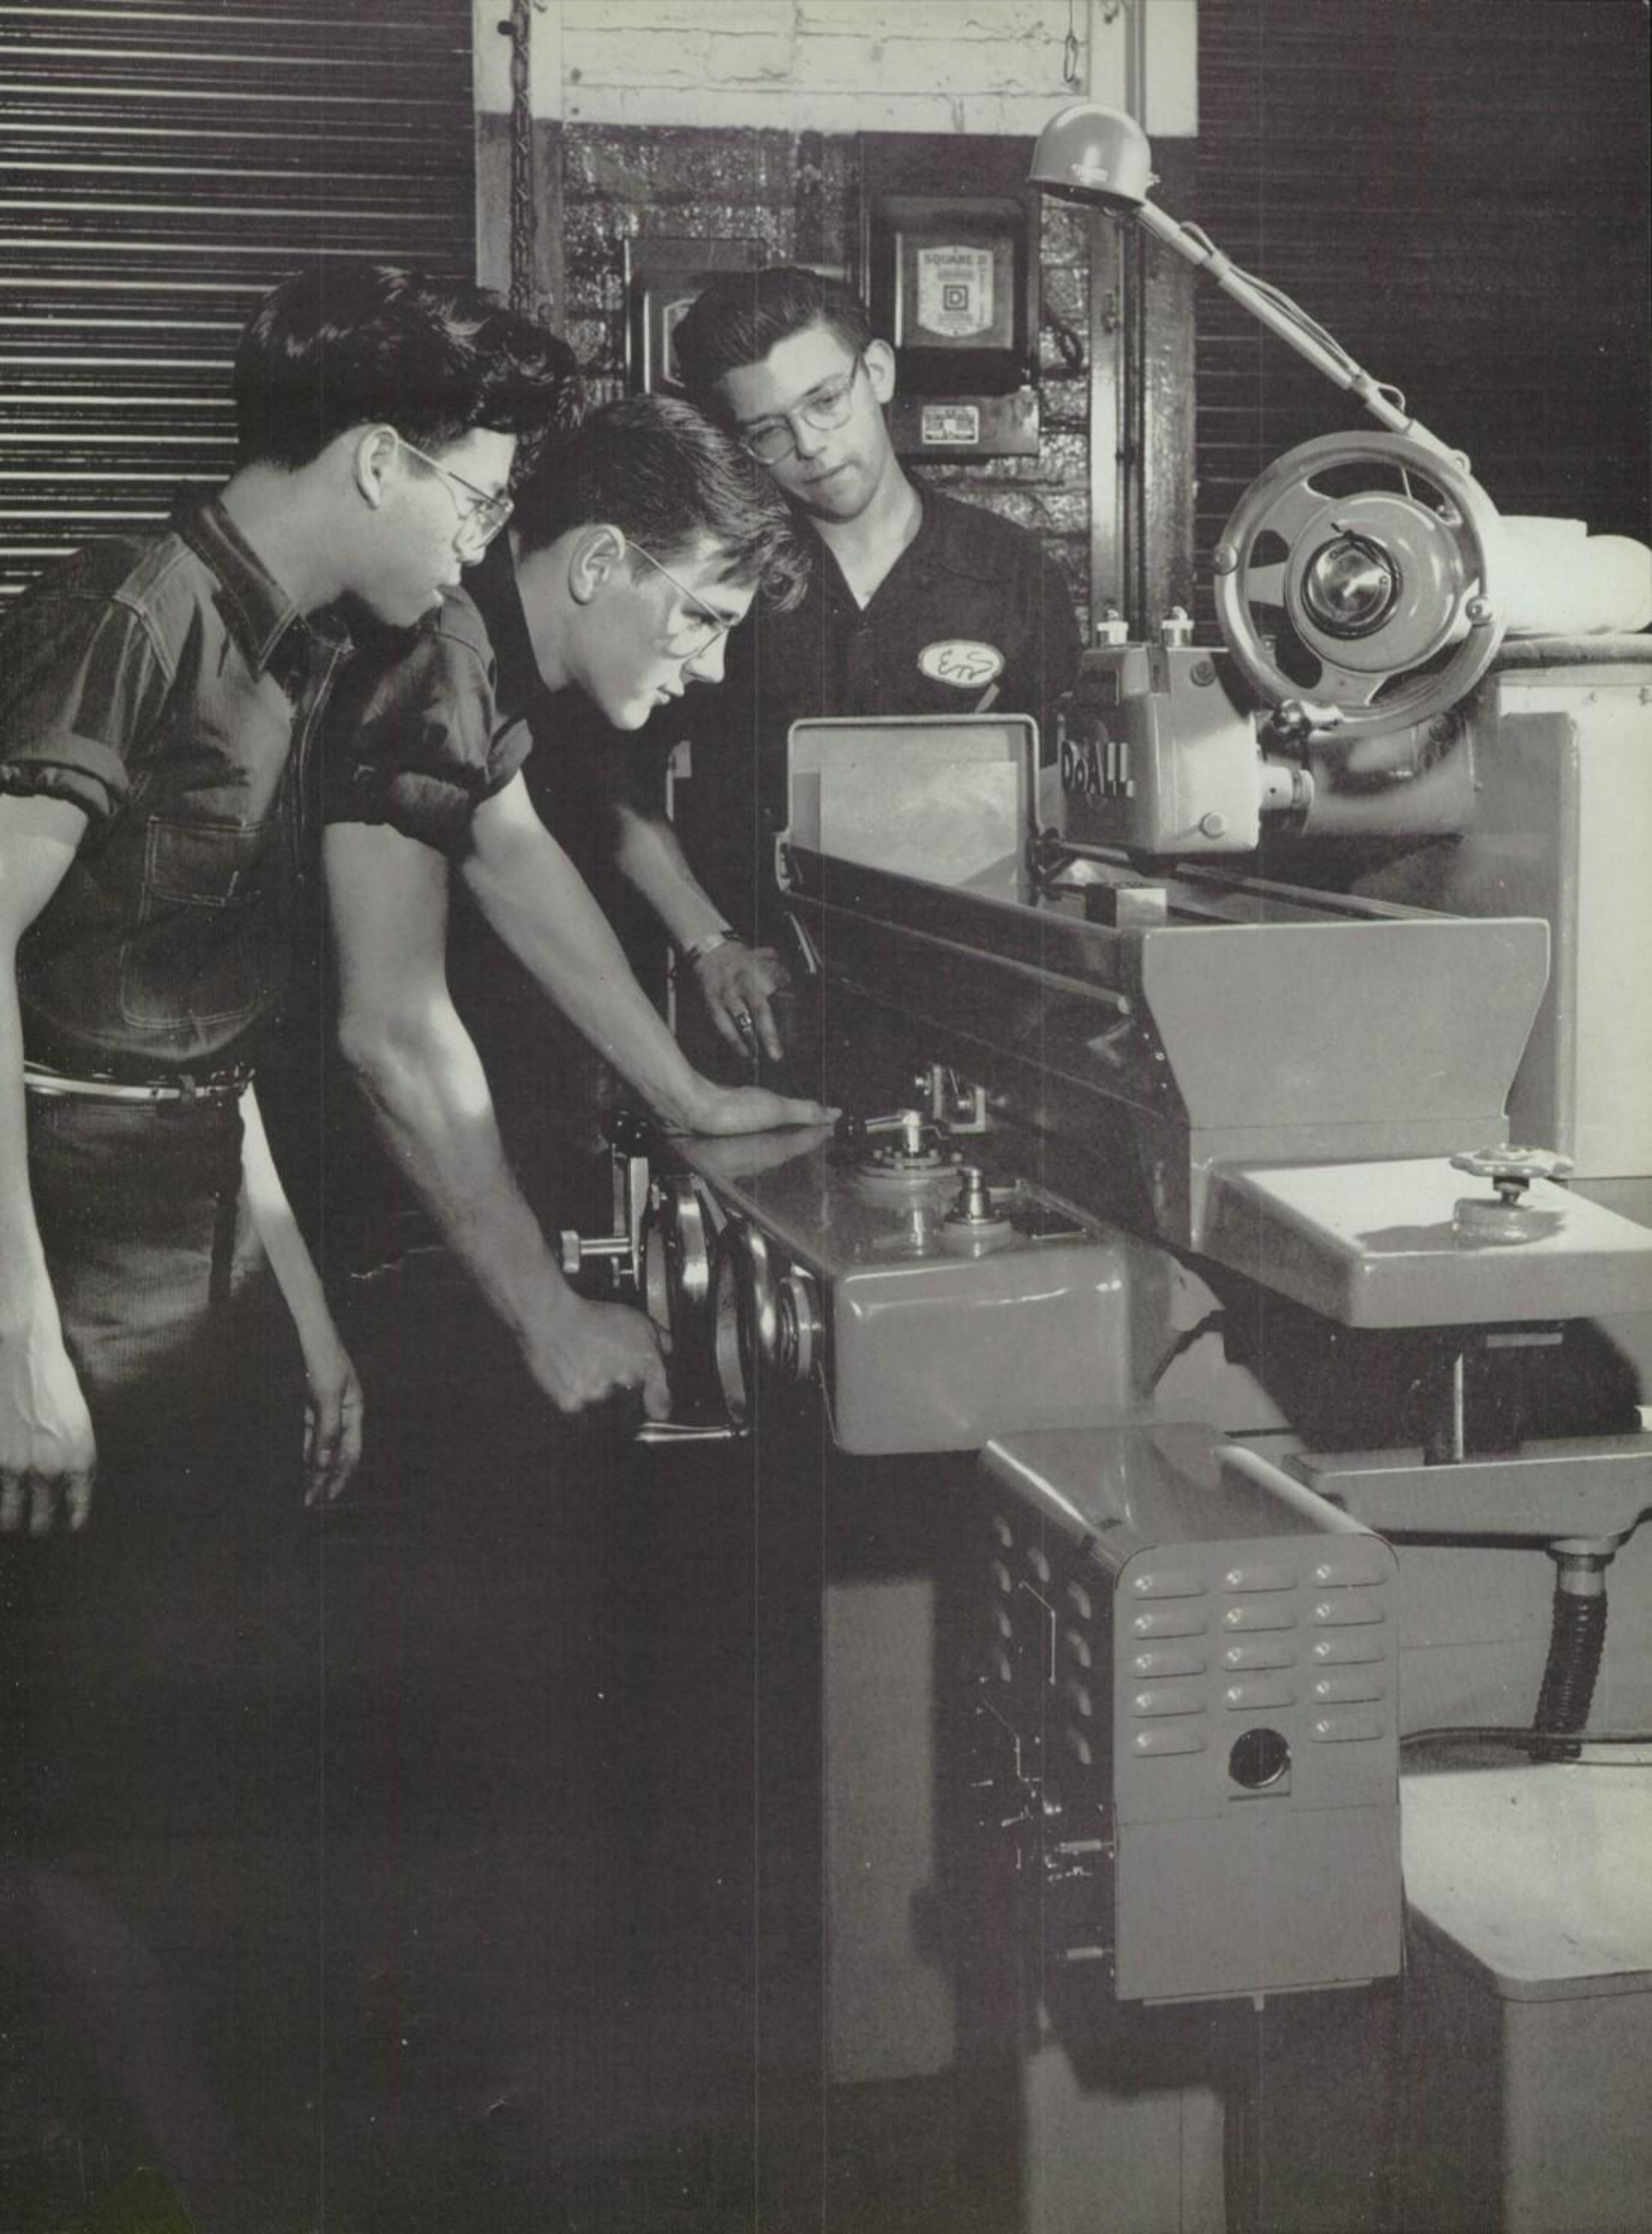

"The student who elects to take work in the Industrial Education Department learns to plan and put his ideas into reality, to acquaint himself with many kinds of material, to operate and value precision machinery and fine tools."

Carl Bergstrom

With imagination and foresight, an industrious worker can gain far more than the mere technical skill required to do the job. Such pre-vocational training will help him to achieve a sense of appreciation for good workmanship. In addition, learning a trade will enable him to discover his own mechanical and artistic aptitudes and to choose a life's work.

Boys' Physical Education Department

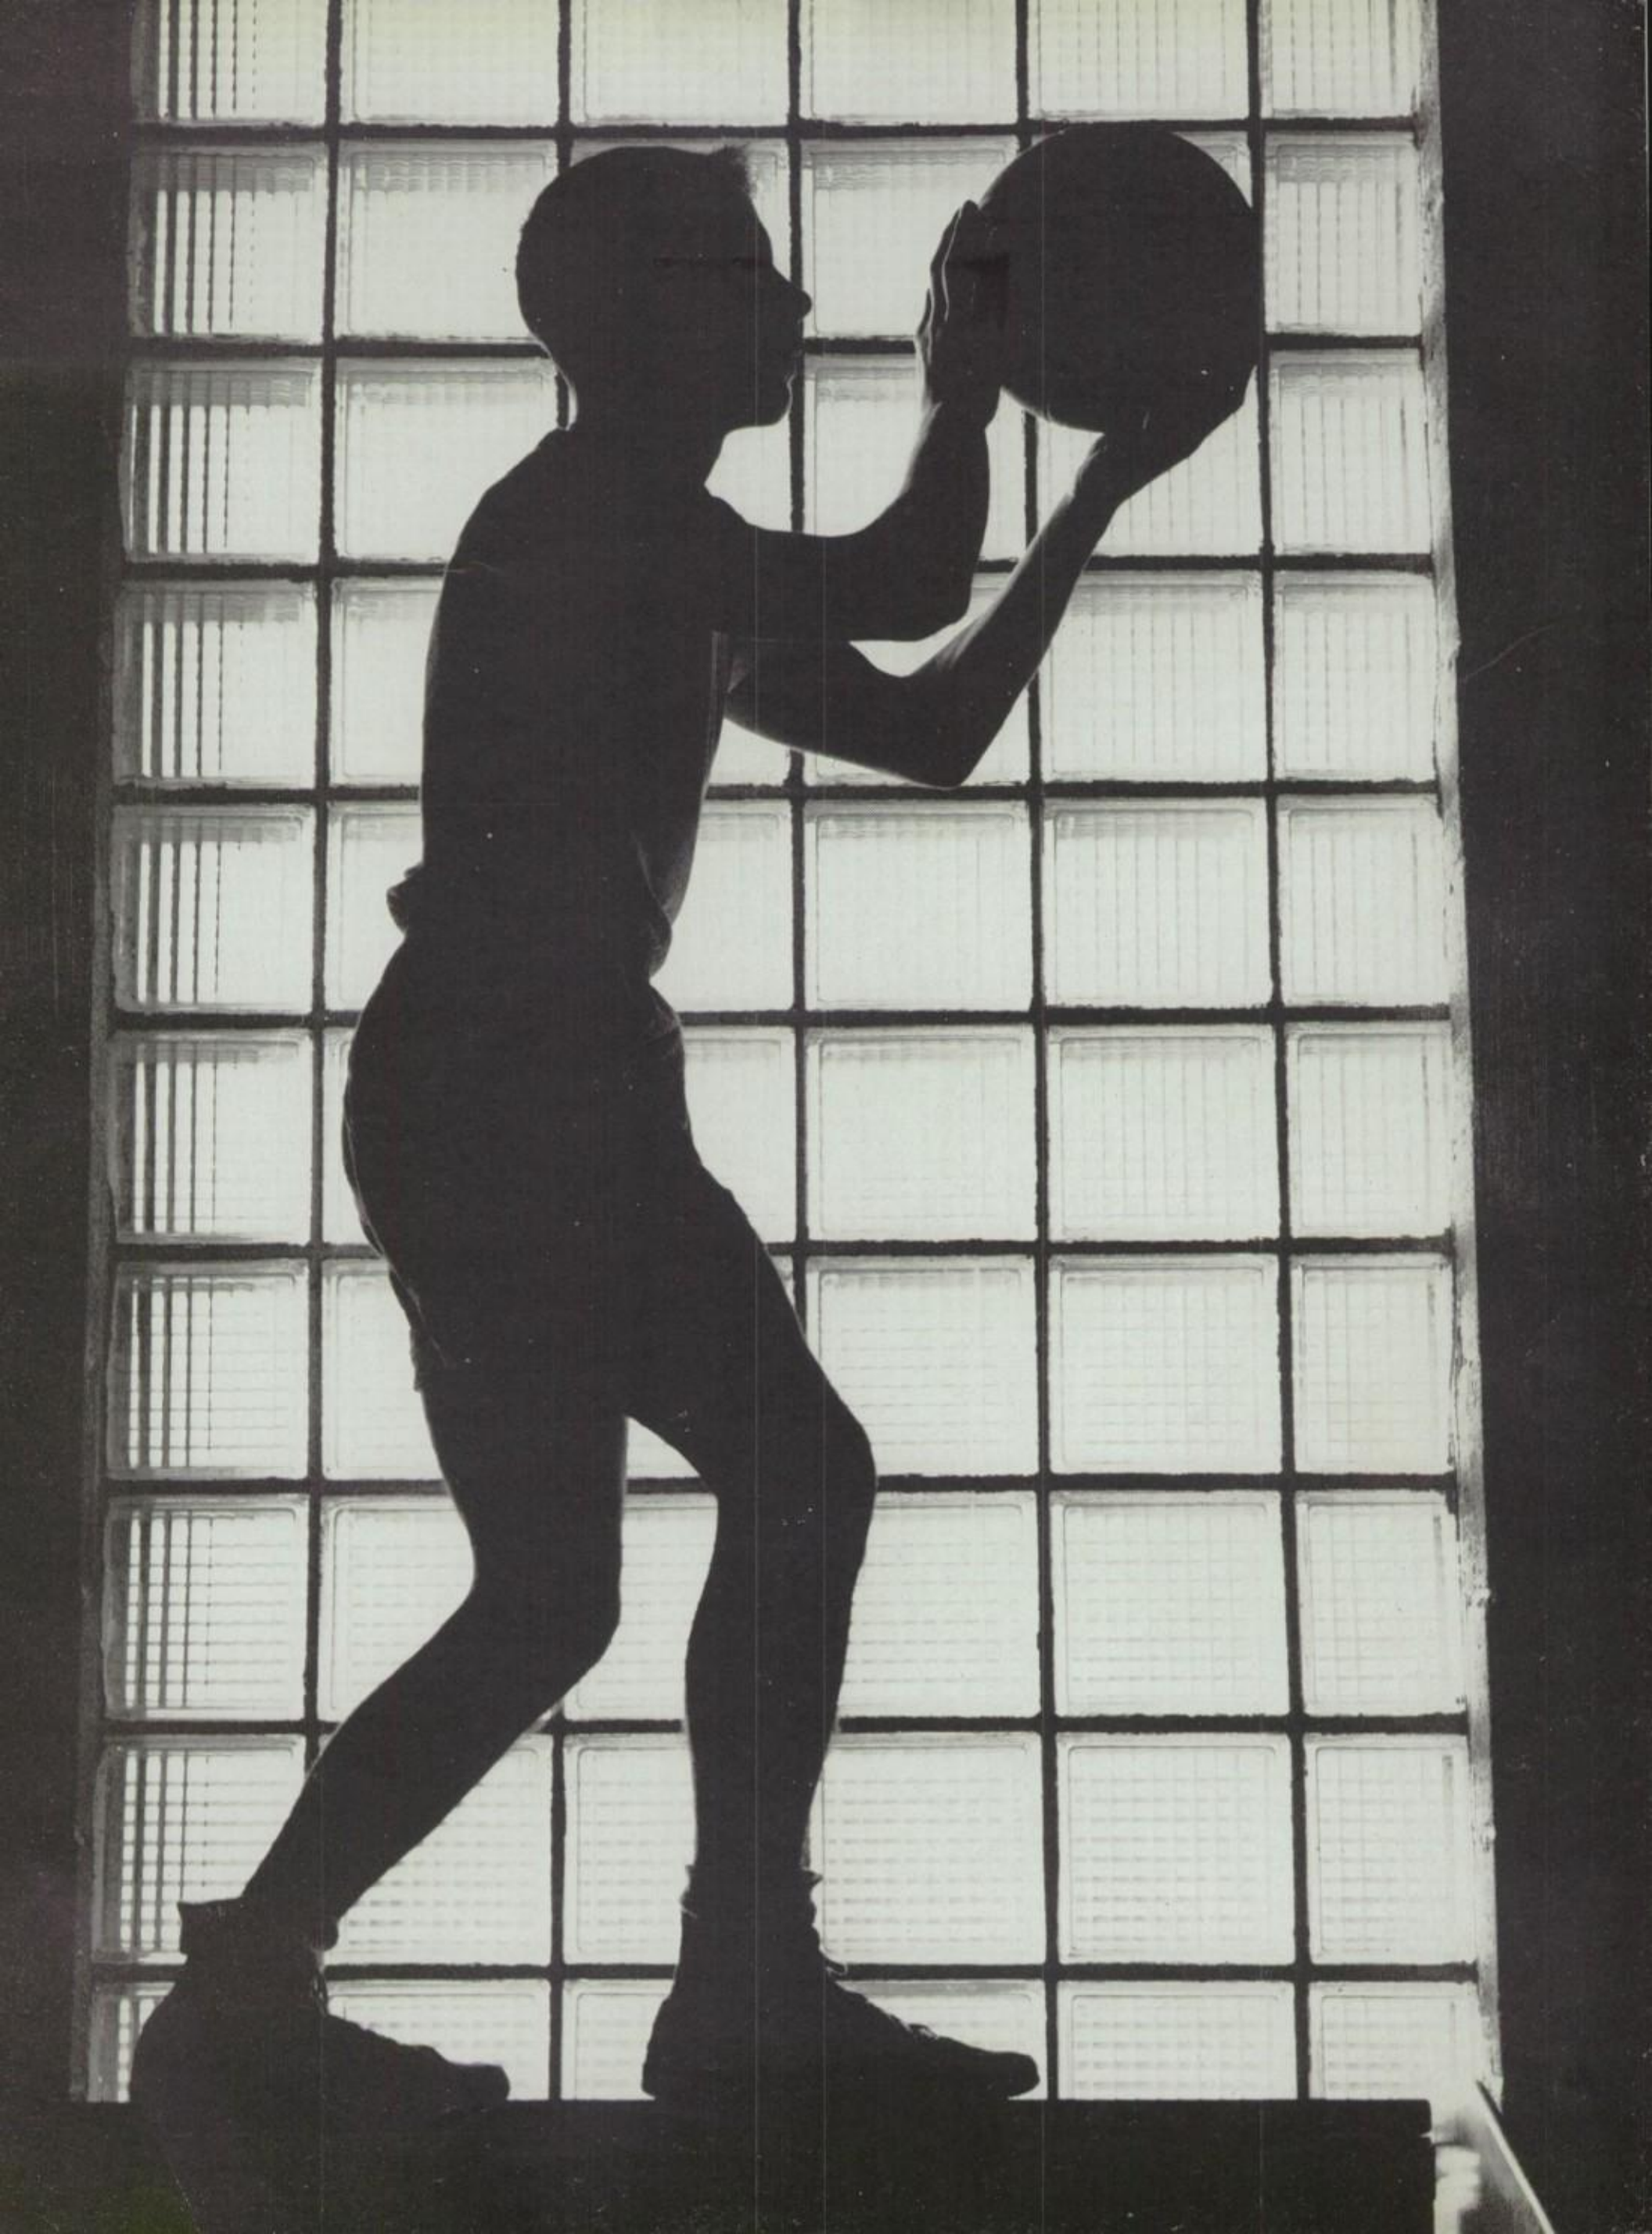

"Physical education is an integral part of the general education of every youngster. It seeks to develop the physical characteristics of coordination, ability, strength, and endurance. Each boy is given the opportunity to nurture sportsmanship, honesty, cooperation, leadership, and a desire for good health practice."

L. W. Remley

Modern civilization has placed great restrictions on man's use of his body. Continuously has he striven to build more comfortable homes, to pass on his physical work to machines, to develop easier methods of living. Nevertheless, he will always require a strong and vigorous body for health's sake and happiness.

Girls Physical Education

Gerald Hardy

"Physical education, health, and safety symbolize the joy of living, the thrill of fitness to work and play, and the knowledge necessary to a full life."

Eva Eddy

In her drive to achieve a lastingly healthy body and sound attitudes toward health, the physical education participant engages in a varied program of exercise and study. The girl develops not only physical coordination but teaches herself the idea of sportsmanship. With this training, she steps out into the world a clean and wholesome individual prepared to deal with life.

Proviso Searches After Ideas

The library offers a wealth of interesting projects for the student: He can contemplate the great writings of the past, keep abreast of current literature, read in quiet for his own enjoyment or pursue a difficult trig problem. Thought-provoking exhibits also present information to Provisoites.

Contemplative condition typifies library scene.

Faithful pages pursue purposeful tasks.

Several extend services to many.

Requires Food and Care

Each school day, approximately 3,000 students and teachers eat in the cafeteria. Mrs. Gladys Grenier, supervisor, and her excellent staff prepare the appetizing food served during the four half-hour lunch periods to the hungry Provisoites and faculty.

Tackling an equally staggering job, Mr. Raymond Quandt and his maintenance crew keep Proviso shipshape. This hard-working staff takes care of Proviso's six buildings and twenty-three acres of lawns and athletic fields.

Mrs. Grenier takes stock of frigid foods for famished students.

Mr. Quandt attends to those maintenance problems with a smile.

Mr. Betts files away crisp gray uniforms from Proviso's laundry.

Have your tickets ready!

Hey! What about those mashed potatoes?

Cafeteria crew pauses for a pix.

Maintenance workers pose in their remodeled lunchroom.

classes

*"I cannot rest from travel; I will drink
Life to the lees. All times I have enjoyed
Greatly, have suffered greatly, both with those
That loved me, and alone."*

Engaged in the educative experience, inculcated with the desire to advance, we of Proviso stand aware of the obstacles confronting us. We have enjoyed the high school years greatly. We now step forward to meet and to be met, to offer and to receive, realizing our ideals, and continuing or relying on the firm background afforded us at Proviso.

Seniors Erect Monument of Achievement

Senior year presented a whole new field of challenges to upperclassmen, some of which you met, and others which remain as goals to be reached. Many experiences linger in your collection of senior year memories.

Term papers and burning the midnight oil are practically synonymous! You put in a lot of study for that government exam in November too. You could hardly wait till 3:25 on that day in October to rush down to the cafeteria and stand in a long line, waiting impatiently to get your senior ring. You recall the "ohs" and "ahs" at your senior pictures when you and your friends started trading and composing sentimental verses. It was a busy year for you — seemed like you were writing themes or essays every other night.

Serving as an officer or representative left you with a feeling of pride in being a part of the student government. You received satisfaction in serving as a member or committee chairman to help with the planning of many school dances, teas, banquets, or assemblies. Extra-curricular activities and sports took up most of your spare time. You attained the spotlight by performing for the Talent Assembly; the senior class play, "Green Valley"; or the Variety Show. Your biggest thrill occurred while attending the winter or spring mixers, "Crystal Ball" and "Pastels on Park Avenue," held in the girls' upper gym. Your most exciting moment came when you were elected to National Honor Society or chosen for "Here's Who." The Prom highlighted the year's events.

Memories of your life as a senior will include everything from reliving exciting moments during a football or basketball game, meeting your pal at the Senior Pal Party, memorizing lines from "Macbeth" for English, earning a Gold Medal, or winning a scholarship, to remembering how nervous you were on Commencement Day and realizing senior year had passed much too quickly. Even Marriage Prep, with its serious side, will probably be put to use later in life. Driver training, offered second semester for the first time, furnished pleasant memories.

What you accomplished while a senior will, in a small way, determine what the future holds in store, whether college, marriage, or work.

Senior Statistics

As freshman, 1054 strong, the class of 1955 flooded through the doors of Proviso on September 7, 1951. By the time Graduation Day arrived on June 15, 1955, the number had dwindled to 801.

Having selected as their motto: "The work of today is the success of tomorrow," the '55-ers put it into effect by presenting a glass-enclosed library case to the school as their class gift. The choice of cerulean blue and white by the seniors set a precedent of correlating class colors with the Provi motif.

Those ranking in the upper 2% of their class include James Davia, David Ehlert, Dennis Gibson, David Hull, Lois Kern, Sonja Knudsen, Eleanor Monjonier, James Nako, Stephen Propeck, Marian Rose, Patricia Rosenkrans, Stanley Rudnick, Bruce Sanford, Beverly Scheel, Darlene Weingand, and Paul Wright.

Jim Smith, Jim Whitmore, Steve Propeck, and Ted Leber are the presidents who ably directed class affairs for the stay here at Proviso. Capturing a four-year lead in Honor Roll scholarship and realizing the first open Prom, the '55-ers surely can claim the goals of success and recognition.

- A. Settlers: "C'mon, ever'body! Let's get back down to our homes. Home! Don't it sound good?"
B. Everheel: "I don't think you'll be able to see very much in this moonlight."
Martha: "Especially the fine print, eh?"
C. Granny: "That there fuel pump sure caused a lot of trouble!"
D. Prudence: "I'll fix that milk so he'll see things no livin' critter ever seen before."
E. Eldon: "You took an' traded Prim for three sticks o' dynamite!"
F. Tinker: "These here are the biggest carrot and potato ever seen in the State of California."

Experience

An archway
Stands above us
With many memories.
A roadway
Twists before us,
Cloaked in the unknown.

We have grown in the shadow
Of the archway
And found hope.
We have stepped on its threshold
And found strength.
Now we must walk ahead . . . alone.

We have built dreams.
Our every sinew
Flexes at thought of the unknown —
The homes and friends and pathways
That will weave the fibers of our lives.
We have built faith.

And if each new gateway opens
To those who make the way,
Then we pray
That our keystone
Will be strong hands instead of fists.

And when we leave the safety
Of this paternal arch,
We shall have met the challenge
That now is the unknown.

Junior Memories Harbor

This past year was fun, wasn't it? But why? What made your junior year so outstanding?

Remember that day ten months ago when you realized that you were finally an upperclassman. You had great ambitions, some of them were fulfilled—others remain half-forgotten.

First you felt more on your own. You selected your own subjects from a wide variety of electives. Dramatics class helped you win a part in the class play, "All in the Family," and your reporting ability and number of column inches assured you of a berth on the Pageant staff. The call, "Swing your partners," stirs up memories of square dancing—and sore toes.

Sports played an important part in your junior year. Remember the feeling of satisfaction you experienced when you qualified for a position on one of the Varsity teams, and the pride you felt when you were awarded a letter for outstanding sports ability? Of course, you recall the thrilling junior-senior basketball game, followed by pigtails and no makeup?

Your excellent scholarship record was recognized by election to National Honor Society and your extra credit work in physics was rewarded by a long-sought "1."

Being a class officer involved a considerable amount of work, but you admit now that you enjoyed the responsibility of guiding the junior class.

Although the majestic May prom ended your junior activities, memories of this fun-packed year will spill over to that final and long-awaited senior year.

"Et tu Brute,"

Harvest Hop,

Sophomore year! To many of you it meant the first year you could really have a large choice of electives. You may have looked forward to a second year of specialized study. To others it may have suggested a further interest in sports or clubs.

How well you no doubt remember the first day of social dance when you had the opportunity to scrutinize your prospective partners with whom you would waltz, fox trot, or rhumba. During the second semester, you probably memorized the words, "Friends, Romans, countrymen —," Mark Antony's speech in Julius Caesar. Maybe you were the boy who dissected the frog in zoology or the girl who forgot to put baking powder in a cake you made in foods.

CANDIDATES FOR JUNIOR OFFICES

First row: Lois Barsema, Nancy Brunst, Dianne Buck, Virginia Long.

Second row: Liela Berman, Olive Kemp, Carol Steinke.

Third row: Judy Herculson, Gail McClintock, David Miller, Barbara Ruppert.

Not pictured: Sharon Delaney, Dick Hamilton.

Some of you sophomore boys played on the football or basketball teams that broke the ice for the main event—the varsity game. Maybe you spent your sophomore year as a homeroom representative or class officer. Your fall party, the "Harvest Hop" and your spring dance enriched the social activities.

On December 7 you watched your fellow classmates display their talents at an assembly. Ervin Lazlo, a Hungarian pianist, entertained you at another assembly later in the year.

As sophomores, you probably look toward your next two years as upperclassmen with great pride and eagerness. If you do everything possible socially and scholastically to improve your years as upperclassmen, to your delight, they will be improved.

Freshman Leaders Command Varied Year

Did you ever go to your locker and find the lock on backwards? If not, did you ever buy an elevator pass or inquire about the location of Room 348?

True, those aren't the things usually spoken of in connection with school, but they were important in their way.

Years from now you will probably remember a birthday party in the cafeteria, whereas $a^2 + b^2 = c^2$ will retreat to oblivion. You may grow a bit hazy about past participles and Latin conjugations, but the dime fine it cost you for chewing gum in English IA will linger in your memory. A long past conference with Mr. Slimmer concerning whether or not you were in study hall will spring up whenever the topic of discussion turns to teacher.

The subjects you study influence the mind; little incidents of everyday life build the person.

*"How dull it is to pause, to make an end,
To rust unburnished, not to shine in use!
As though to breathe were life!"*

Just as learning is a process of growth fostered by direction and self-activity, so is social learning a process of growth kindled by the spirit of group participation. Such participation plays a definite role in our education, for through it we discover how to get along with others — how to make adjustments and sacrifices to attain a mutually desired end. Through use we learn to live.

The gold keystone and flaming torch symbolize the high ideals which the National Honor Society represents. As the keystone is placed by the builder to hold the arch in perpetual stability, so the structure of our education must remain firm in the purposes of life, by the ideals represented in four cardinal principles: character as the composite of all common virtues; scholarship as the goal of high school members, leadership, the splendid gift of personality that lights man's climb upward; and service, that unselfish quality of doing more than our share in the world's work.

A flaming torch is the emblem of the NHS member's purpose to beam forward the searching light of truth, and to keep burning that ambition for the enduring values of life.

This year's achievements included providing a College Day exhibit, hosting a faculty tea, furnishing guides for P.T.A. meetings, and sponsoring an April banquet. The Society, sponsored by Miss Ellendore Lampton, also maintains a College Catalogue Library. The faculty elects students in the upper ten per cent of the junior class and seniors in the upper third of their class for membership.

The eighth year of the Co-operative Study Hall System marks the largest year in its history. During the first semester, approximately 1,200 students were enrolled in 41 co-op study halls. The beginning of the second semester brought this total to 1,500 students and 53 co-op study halls.

Proviso and New Trier are the only high schools in the Suburban League with student supervised study halls. This unique organization is the largest Student Council Committee in the school and one of the few like it in the nation.

John Lofgren, president; Joe Toman, vice-president; Jean Scott, secretary; and nine board members keep this system running smoothly with the help of the faculty adviser, Mrs. House.

ASSEMBLY SUPERVISORS

This all-boy committee of the Student Council assists in the seating of Proviso students at all scheduled assemblies held in the auditorium during the year. They also help in keeping order at Student Council sponsored dances and at the dances after the basketball games.

Led by Ken O'Callaghan, chairman, the committee consists of forty-five boys, from each of the four classes. Acting as captains for their respective classes are Rich Bronge, seniors; Larry Buchanan, juniors; Spencer Farley, sophomores; and Frank Reda, freshmen.

DRIVER EDUCATION CLUB

Since its formation, the Driver Education Club has tried to obtain a driver training program for the students of Proviso. This year the members achieved their goal. Students enrolled in the training course received instruction from the new driver education teacher, Mr. Thon, during their gym periods and after school.

Fifty-two active members of the club meet during the second and fourth Thursday of each month. They view films, listen to speakers, and receive pamphlets and stickers promoting skillful and careful driving.

Girls' League Stimulates Friendship

A daisy represents health; a pansy, intellectual life; a rose, social graces; and a lily, spiritual qualities. These flowers all symbolize the attributes of the perfect person. As flowers grow and develop, so the Girls' League helps Proviso girls to grow and develop into finer people.

Governed by a board of representatives with the aid of the girls' counselors, the Girls' League carries on useful projects through its Service, Entertainment, Social, Friendship, and Art Committees.

GIRLS' LEAGUE BOARD

Seated: Martha Barber, treasurer; Barbara Behn, second vice-president; Nan MacGregor, president; Terry Bruno, first vice-president; Jacqueline Russo, art chairman; Pat Henriksen, secretary.

FTA Trains for Future; PTA Plans for Present

FTA and PTA

The PTA is an important part of any school, especially one as large as Proviso. Parents are necessarily interested in the work of the school and in the teachers; PTA meetings provide parents with an opportunity to see the school in action and to speak with teachers.

The FTA seeks to foster a wider interest in the field of teaching. Originated in 1948, the organization presents films, speakers, and discussions on subjects related to the teaching profession. Miss V. I. Scala and Mr. J. W. Hinds, faculty sponsors, aid the members in carrying out this program. Social events of the year include a box social and a dance.

Strikes Keynote For PYF Conference

P. Y. F. ADVISERS

Seated: Mr. S. Rattenbury, Miss Beck, Miss Betts, Miss Gillham.

Standing: Rev. K. Everett Munson, Mr. Catlin, Mr. Dillner.

Two key members or representatives are chosen by each church to attend the organization meetings. To become acquainted with one another, they hold a breakfast at a nearby church.

Other character-building activities planned for the community during the year are a guest night, the annual week-end conference, and the Easter Sunrise Service. The guest night has several churches playing host to three or four other youth groups for the evening. The conference, consisting of three evening sessions, is highlighted by noted speakers, a banquet, and the installation of new officers. The year's program is concluded with the Easter Sunrise Service held in the auditorium.

Throughout the year the PYF teen-agers are taught high ideals and standards of living which create and maintain a lifelong inspiration.

Hi-Y Serves At Home and Abroad

A member of the High School Young Men's Christian Association develops his latent capacities through close association with others in wholesome social relationships, through international as well as communal services, and through common consideration of the Divine, supremely represented in Christianity.

Ever since the first year of their organization in 1919, Hi-Y-ers have aided Proviso by their initiative, their originality, and their spirit of cooperation.

Through the combined efforts of both the junior and senior divisions, many projects were organized and carried out. Highlighting the year were the pencil drive for the schools of India, football programming, decorating the Christmas tree, the doll bed project, the annual Thanksgiving program, the Spring Social, a study of the Psalms, and also the duties of Big Brothers.

SENIOR HI-Y

CINE CLUB

The Cine Club, as it nears its twentieth year of service to Proviso, still maintains an admirable and efficient program in offering for classroom use films, projectors, and operators. Boasting a membership of 51, the organization brings to Proviso students the luxury of a cinema-supplemented education.

CAMERA CLUB

Members of the Camera Club, a group sponsored by Mr. Harvey Johnson, glean the proper techniques in taking good pictures. Aside from learning how to get the best performance from their cameras, they master the intricacies of developing and enlarging pictures.

Of the various projects carried out by the club, the most outstanding was the photography exhibit in the main corridor during American Education Week.

Ushers Club Controls Crowds, Serves School

F N A

Meeting once a month to view films and hear lectures on hospital life, discuss the requirements and opportunities of various nursing schools, and plan visits to near-by hospitals, the Future Nurses of America cultivate an interest in the profession of nursing.

During the school year small groups have visited the following hospitals: Passavant, Evanston, St. Luke's, and St. Elizabeth's.

Bringing 1954 to a close, the Future Nurses held a Christmas party in December. The club drew from its treasury to send an album of Christmas records to the Shriners' Hospital for crippled children.

Officers of the group include Pat Slazyk, president; Mary Gibson, vice-president; and Betty Spencer, secretary-treasurer.

USHERS' CLUB

Members of the Ushers' Club are called upon to serve at P.T.A. meetings; band, orchestra, and choral concerts; class plays; and graduation programs. The yearly calendar includes a Christmas party, a January dance, April elections, and a traditional induction ceremony in May.

The Ushers' Club meets on the second Tuesday of each month. Donna Gelsey presides at the meetings as president; Frances Aulisi supervises the ushering events as vice-president; Peggy Paul maintains a record of the meetings and attendance as secretary; Sally Schoenwolf collects dues and keeps a record of the club's finances as treasurer. Mr. Haddock and Miss Krebs sponsor the group.

PSSC Evokes International Understanding

One of Proviso's newer additions, the Social Science Club, provides varied activities for its members. Under the supervision of Mr. Robert Johnson, PSSC attempts to promote knowledge of world affairs and to gain a better understanding of other countries. To carry out these aims, the members hold debates and discussions, listen to speakers, watch movies, and take trips to places of interest. Brightening the halls, club members post an attractive bulletin board in the school. An annual banquet completes the activities.

New Club Assists in Banquet Preparations

The newly-formed Banquet Service Club assists at affairs such as the Teachers' Union Dinner, Dad-Daughter Date Night, Mother-Daughter Banquet, Athletic Awards Banquet, Industrial Arts Fraternity Dinner, and National Honor Society Banquet. Serving these affairs under the supervision of Mrs. Jeanne Bernhardt, faculty adviser, forty girls helped to make the dinners more pleasant and enjoyable. Toward the close of the school year, the club traveled to a downtown hotel, viewing experienced workers and observing their techniques.

SOCIAL SCIENCE CLUB

"To prepare young men to become better citizens through a four-fold program: service, outdoor, indoor, and social" is the aim of the Explorer Scout program.

Post guide Ed Moffatt, Assistant post-guide Bud Schau, Secretary Jerry Cygan, Treasurer Harold Hopler, Parliamentarian John Midgard, and Quartermaster Fred Carlson strive to carry out these goals.

Camping, exploration, hay-rides, industrial tours, guest speakers, and splash parties comprise the activity program.

With the guidance of Mr. Stanley Rattenbury, the boys of Post 91 learn valuable information which will aid them in their later lives.

Proviso's Gear Grinders Aid School

The Machine Shop Club develops skill and character as well as aiding the school and community.

The club makes electric candles for the Choir, Band, and National Honor Society, and it constructs Prom decorations. The boys send aid to the Junior Red Cross by making wagons for library work and to aid patients.

Mr. Boldt and Mrs. Oklepek sponsor the club.

Pep Club Arouses Student Enthusiasm

The Pep Club helps boost school spirit by attending all football and basketball games. Members, dressed in traditional blue and white, promote school loyalty among the students by leading in school cheers.

Each Pep Club girl takes an active part in a button sale in the fall. The club also plans a spring dance.

Sponsors of the organization, Miss Dorothy Thompson and Mr. John Oklepek, arrange for the girls to be present at all the athletic events to serve as a cheering section.

Proviso Players Gain Dramatic Proficiency

Since its organization in 1929, the Proviso Players have aimed to stimulate interest in the arts of the theater and to develop dramatic talent.

Meeting on the first and third Thursdays of each month, members discuss business and present one-act plays. Under the guidance of Miss Elizabeth Little, students plan, direct, stage, and enact these plays.

To fulfill their purpose of providing entertainment for school functions, the Proviso Players have provided educational and inspiring programs throughout the past year.

PROVISO PLAYERS OFFICERS

"Looking unto Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith," the club seeks to strengthen spiritually those who are saved by His blood. This non-denominational group believes that the Bible is the holy, infallible, and verbally inspired Word of God; it offers Christian fellowship through Bible study, testimony, and song.

Highlights of the year include the Hi-C Congress in the Chicago City Hall, a parents' night, and a summer rally at Cedar Lake, Indiana. Morning prayer meetings, picnics, interscholastic basketball, Bible quiz teams, and monthly socials stand out among its other activities.

Blue Book Staff Composes Freshman Guide

In an attempt to acquaint incoming freshmen with Proviso, the Blue Book staff published a revised edition of that manual this year. This guide to Proviso contains maps of the school integrated with explanations of its functions.

Pat Brighton, editor-in-chief, directs the staff with help from Miss Joyner, faculty advisor.

Proviso's Lettermen and Numeral Winners

MAJOR LETTERMEN

Front row: Mr. Kassel, Wilkinson, Goetz, Dukes, Edwards, Schweikert.

Second row: Ireland, Coleman, N. Petersen, Semper, Doss, R. Peterson, Bjornson.

Third row: Edgren, Rasmussen, Provenzano, Finkler, Eisenhammer, Lofgren.

Proviso's lettermen strive to promote better sportsmanship, to maintain a stronger feeling of comradeship, and to develop a more active interest in all athletic events. They are divided into three groups: major lettermen under Mr. Tiefenthal; minor lettermen, supervised by Mr. Kassel; and numeral men, guided by Dr. Appleton. Mr. Slimmer directs the overall program. Mr. Kassel, Dr. Appleton, Mr. Slimmer, and Mr. Storby head the second semester activities.

At the business meetings, members consider such problems as the PMLM mixer, the Oak Park football dance, the junior-senior basketball game, and ticket-taking at class plays. In addition to the business meetings, lettermen hold five recreation nights annually.

MINOR LETTERMEN

Middle row: Conners, Cross, Zuehlke, Fork, Kampf, Perrino, Hinton, Fiene.

Back row: Scatena, Echelberger, Glazebrook, Scelonge, Hegy, Hamilton, Frandsen.

Girls' Athletic Association

"I promise to uphold the ideals of the Girls' Athletic Association,

By promoting interest in athletics and the out of doors;

By living so that I may be healthy and strong;

By making good sportsmanship a constant factor in my conduct."

Striving to follow this pledge, members of the GAA engage in a varied program of wholesome after-school activities. Horseback riding, tennis, baseball, archery, and golf are among the sports offered in the spring and fall. Volleyball, basketball, and badminton provide indoor pleasure during the winter.

Backs Sports and Social Activities

The GAA employs a point system which enables girls to gain two points for each afternoon sport in which they participate. A girl must earn a minimum of twenty-four points to qualify for GAA membership. The GAA officers this year initiated a new system recognizing active and inactive GAA members.

A Christmas party, a combination splash party-potluck supper-election, an installation tea, and an eighth grade get-together in the spring highlight the GAA calendar each year.

FBLA's pop corn and candy sustain basketball fans.

The Future Business Leaders of America prepares its members for the business world by promoting actual business experiences in salesmanship, office practice, and management. Composed of commercial students, FBLA serves Proviso by selling school supplies, basketball pencils, school decals, refreshments at basketball games, and distributing the Proviso Pageant to student lockers on Thursday afternoons.

Miss Johnson, Mr. Millette, and Mr. Stickler sponsor the group.

The state FBLA convention at Springfield, trips to various places of interest such as the Board of Trade, an XO program each month in the auditorium, two school dances each year, and various other activities crowd the FBLA calendar of fun and learning, producing students who are better equipped to meet the challenges of today's business world.

Provi Staff Practices Arch-ery

At the end of the term, the 39th volume of the Provi was placed in the students' hands. Thirty-six staff members, divided in departments, worked together for the sole purpose of publishing a Provi that will relive the events and memories of every student long after graduation.

Arranging class picture appointments, taking organization pictures, checking names, creating a class poem, the staff finally chiseled the Arch of Proviso as the 1955 theme. The daily sixth period sessions were devoted entirely to the reshaping and planning of the book and to the correcting of names and copy. The room was constantly humming with the efforts of speedy typists.

The various staffs under the supervision of Miss Zochert, art; Mr. Judd, business; Mr. Harvey Johnson, photography; and Mr. Mahlberg, editorial; have worked together as a single unit to perfect, improve, and to make this Provi the most treasured and valuable possession of each student in the years to come.

Capturing international honors from Quill and Scroll for thirteen consecutive years and receiving the George H. Gallup award for twelve years confirms the Pageant's position as one of the top-rated high school papers in the country.

Under the supervision of Richard L. Daniels, faculty adviser for the last seven years, Proviso's seniors publish the Pageant with the help of junior assistants. After a semester of academic training, the juniors, through practical experience, prepare themselves for their responsibilities in the succeeding year.

Preparing the traditional freshman, Christmas, and Easter issues, plus circulating the new college and alumni issues, add up to a small idea of the Pageant's accomplishments during this thirty-sixth year of publication.

Orchestra Illumines School Year

Proviso's Concert Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Wallace Nelson, entertains several times during the school year. In December, the orchestra plays at the P.T.A. meeting. The orchestra gives two complete Sunday afternoon concerts with special student soloists and ensembles. At such gatherings the girls wear pastel-colored formals. White shirts and dark trousers comprise the boys' attire.

The Proviso Art Department always makes the orchestra's stage decorations. This year the department's contribution was a large back-drop upon which were placed silver-snowflakes, huge shiny balls and other seasonal objects that glittered in the light of the radiant orchestra.

Many orchestra members participate in district contests in this area each spring. Those who receive a Division I rating are qualified to enter the state contest.

Each year the orchestra chooses four or more students to attend summer music camp and to receive scholarships provided by the O.P.A. Musicians are also sent to play in the orchestra at the Illinois Music Conference.

Band Adds Color to Football Season;

Trim blue-clad figures scrambling over a grassy football field forming a giant "P" for Proviso . . . "The Wizard of Oz," Saint-Saen's "Phaeton," "Peter and the Wolf" . . . The individual sounds of several different instruments blending together in melodious musical compositions.

Eighty-two musicians and ten majorettes from the Proviso High School Band highlighted several fall football games with colorful maneuvers. The Band's first lighted presentation followed the theme "God Bless America." At the October Homecoming game the band formed a giant bubblepipe and released 462 balloons. On another occasion the marching musicians depicted "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

The band participated in Bataan Day services by marching in a two-hour parade down Fifth Avenue, Maywood.

Band members and soloists performed in three concerts: on November 27 the organization combined with the Suburban Veterans' Chorus; on February 6 the group played a mid-season concert; and on Easter Sunday in April the band presented its final musical production.

Mr. J. Irving Tallmadge, director and head of the music department, this spring sent several soloists and ensembles to district contests.

The Band Parents' Organization held a potluck supper in October. In addition to sponsoring informal get-togethers between band members and their parents, this group raises money to send worthy students to the National Music Camp in Interlochen, Michigan.

CHOIR

Ninety-six choraliers blend their voices in a mellow ensemble, echoing such music as "Oklahoma!", "Song of Christmas," and "Passion Trilogy."

A frosty hayride, a soggy picnic, a formal dance, sextet and octet practices, and Christmas caroling sparked the choir in its bid for musical perfection and appreciation.

Varsity Gridders Divide

CENTRAL

The Pirates overcame a 7-7 halftime tie to down Madison Central 27-9 at Madison. Undermanned, though never outfought, Central succumbed to the Buc's powerful ground game and alert pass defense. John Edwards scored twice while Larry Dukes and Fred Keys tallied once each. Bill Schultz added three PAT's.

WAUKEGAN

Proviso met with defeat for the first time in ten games as she fell to an in-ata, 24-20. The Bucs drove to within spired Waukegan eleven led by Bob Sal-four yards of the winning TD with a minute to go, but a run on last down failed. Edwards, Keys and Ken O'Callaghan each scored once for the Pirates. An injury which sent O'Callaghan to the hospital marred the first home game of the year.

NILES

Proviso got back on the right track as it rolled over the Trojans from Niles 20-6. A spectacular eighty-yard touchdown pass from Larry Buchanan to Fred Keys highlighted the Buc offense. Eckhardt and Dukes added the other Pirate six-pointer with Schultz booting the extra points.

Second row: Simonelli, Ruschke, Dengler, Gibson, Yundt, Buchanan, Bearwald, Weld, Knippenberg, Ostermann, Eckhardt.

EVANSTON

Evanston further dampened an already wet Proviso homecoming by whipping the Pirates 19-7. The defeat dropped the Bucs below the .500 mark in league play. Although the varsity eleven led 7-6 at the half, the Wildkits' over-all superiority told the final story. Larrk Dukes scored the lone Proviso touchdown with Schultz adding the point.

down column. Bill Schultz got into the act with a 25 yard field goal and three conversions. The win gave Proviso a 3-3 League record.

OAK PARK

Disease in the form of fumbleitis struck the Buc camp as they succumbed to their traditional foes 21-7 to close a fair season. Proviso played Oak Park to a 7-7 standstill in the first half, but the Huskies' Mr. Inside (Bill Hickman) and Mr. Outside (Jack Vasey) proved too much for the Bucs in the second half. Fred Keys closed his brilliant career by scoring the lone Proviso TD.

NEW TRIER

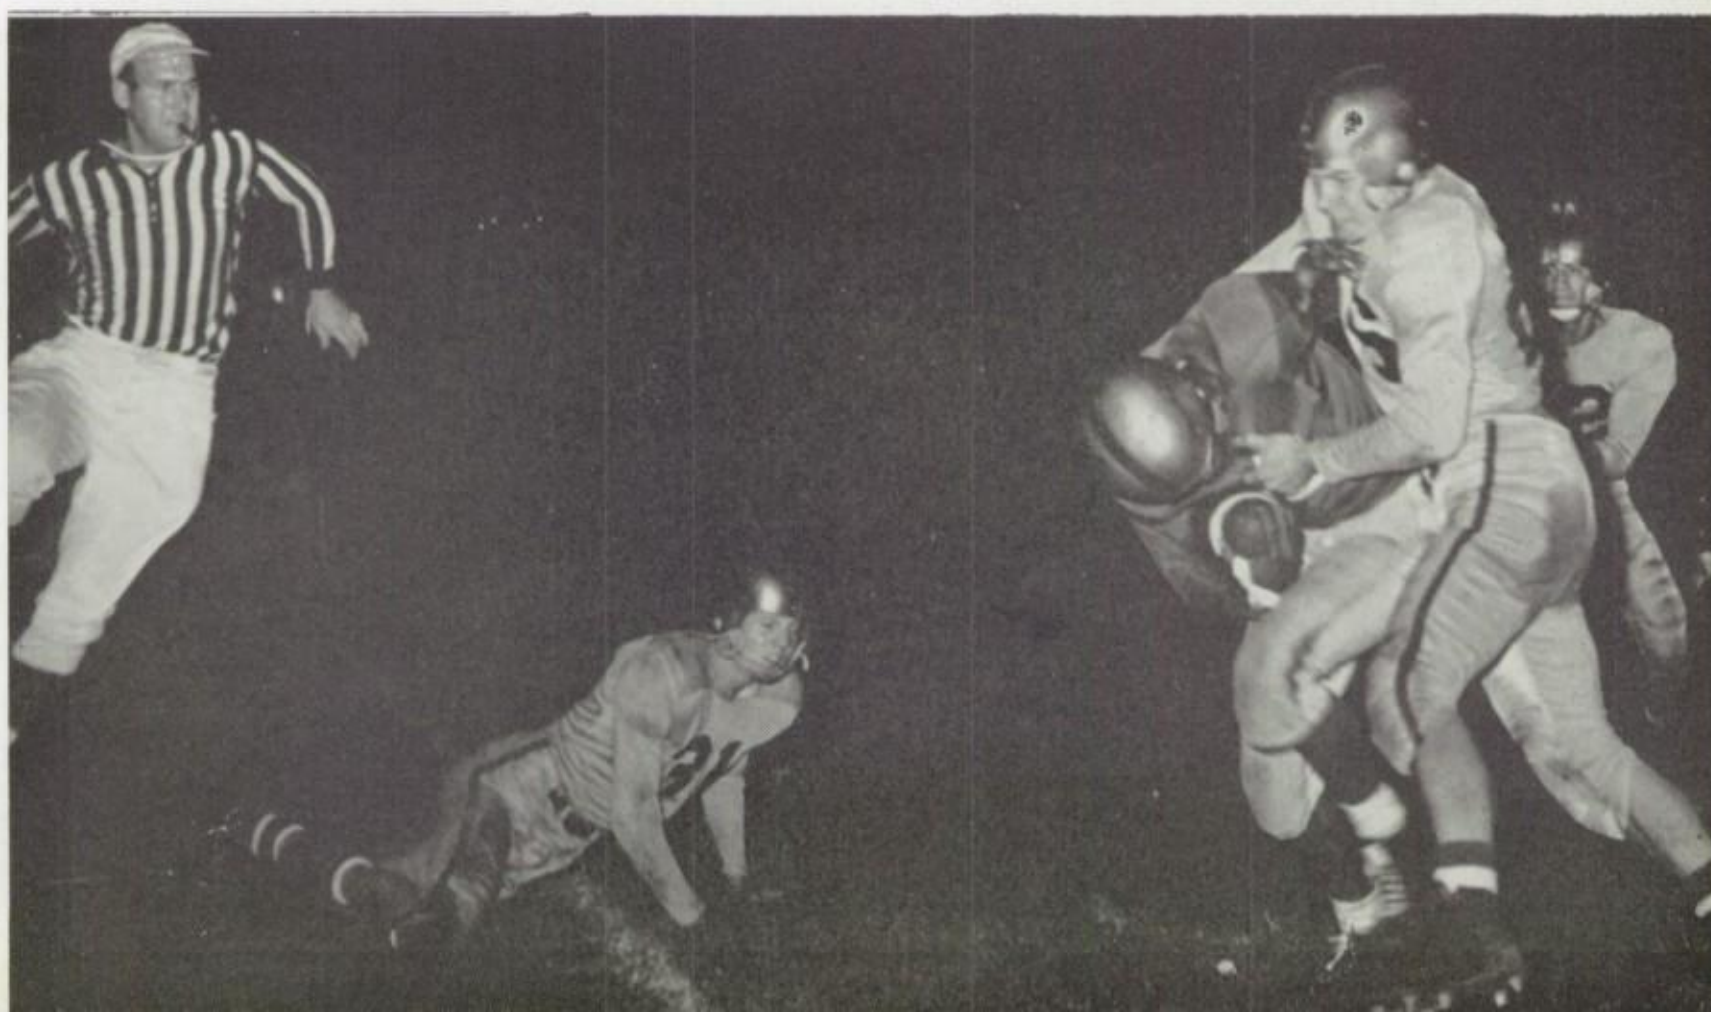

Proviso fell once again, this time to New Trier's warring Indians. Although the Blue-and-White lost 13-0, they put forth their top defensive effort of the year. With two exceptions, the entire game was played on the NT side of the fifty yard line. The two exceptions resulted in two New Trier scores. Offensively, the Pirates suffered through their worst game, netting only 147 yards both on the ground and in the air.

MORTON

Losing 7-0 late in the fourth quarter, the Bucs reverted to a Frank Merriwell finish. With the Proviso stands shrouded in silence and Morton driving for a TD, guard Norm Nissen grabbed a misguided JSM aerial. He outdistanced everyone to the goal for six points, but joy turned to dismay when Bill Schultz missed the PAT. Seconds later, end Norm Dengler broke through the Mustang line and tackled a Morton ballcarrier for a safety. Proviso was ahead 8-7! Moments later Ken O'Callaghan added an insurance score on a quarterback keep play. Schultz made the point.

HIGHLAND PARK

Proviso played one of their best games as they felled Highland Park's Little Giants 30-21. Keys scored twice on runs of 25 and 33 yards. Bart DiVerde and O'Callaghan also broke into the touch-

Battling burly and rough competition, the J.V. team registered a 4 and 4 record.

After opening the season with a defeat at the hands of Schurz, the team scored two victories over Oak Park and Bloom.

The team then went into a slump which produced two scoreless defeats. But the powerful Pirates bounced back to win two of their three remaining games, beating Morton, and bowing to New Trier, only to regain their stride by shutting out Oak Park.

Proviso's second-year gridders romped over all but two of their opponents in compiling a six won, two lost record. They crossed their opponents' goal line twice as frequently as their foes passed theirs. Costly in the New Trier game, the only lopsided loss, loomed fumbles. In the other defeat Evanston squeaked by the Bucs 14-2. Mr. Slimmer, Mr. Kassel, Mr. Hatley, and Mr. Grady coached the sophs.

Buc Harriers Line Up for Another Victory

Climaxing a highly successful 1954 season, the Proviso cross country team walked away with the state championship. Both the varsity and frosh-soph squads also won the Suburban League Championships, compiling records of 9-0 and 6-1 respectively.

The harriers showed speed and depth as they won their first meet with Waukegan. Niles fell next before the powerful Bucs, followed by La Grange, Evanston, Leyden, Morton, New Trier, Bloom, and Oak Park. Dominating the Suburban League Invitational Meet, the Pirates placed seven runners in the first 19.

The district meet saw Proviso outpace a field of 11 schools to qualify for the state meet at Urbana, as they won with 50 points. Depth proved to be the determining factor in the Bucs' success story as they boasted six runners in the first 50. Coach Harold Monilaw thus led the harriers to Proviso's first cross country state championship.

Finishing the season in a tie for third place with Waukegan, the Buc five retained Proviso's basketball reputation. While winning eight out of their fourteen conference games, the Proviso squad outpointed such perennial powers as Morton, New Trier, and Niles. After dropping the season's opener to Thornton, they followed with two wins in the next seven games. A five-game winning streak gave rise to hopes of a Sweet Sixteen berth, but the Pirate's aspirations dampened when Mr. Hartley's proteges salvaged but one of their remaining five games. Proviso's 65-58 regional loss to Niles eliminated the Bucs from further competition.

Lack of depth and height proved to be the determining factors in the J.V. basketball season as the Junior Pirates finished the year on the short end of a 1-14 record. The loss of their first game to La Grange by only five points, set the pattern for the next eight encounters. Then New Trier stopped the Bucs in the last quarter after a third period tie. Following this spirited showing, the Bucs returned home to down Thornton; however, they dropped the remaining five contests.

FRESHMEN

Compiling a 5-5 league record, the Proviso baby basket-ers displayed good form as they out-shot and out-scored their opponents for the season. The frosh hit an average of 37 points per game, losing one game by two points and two others by close margins.

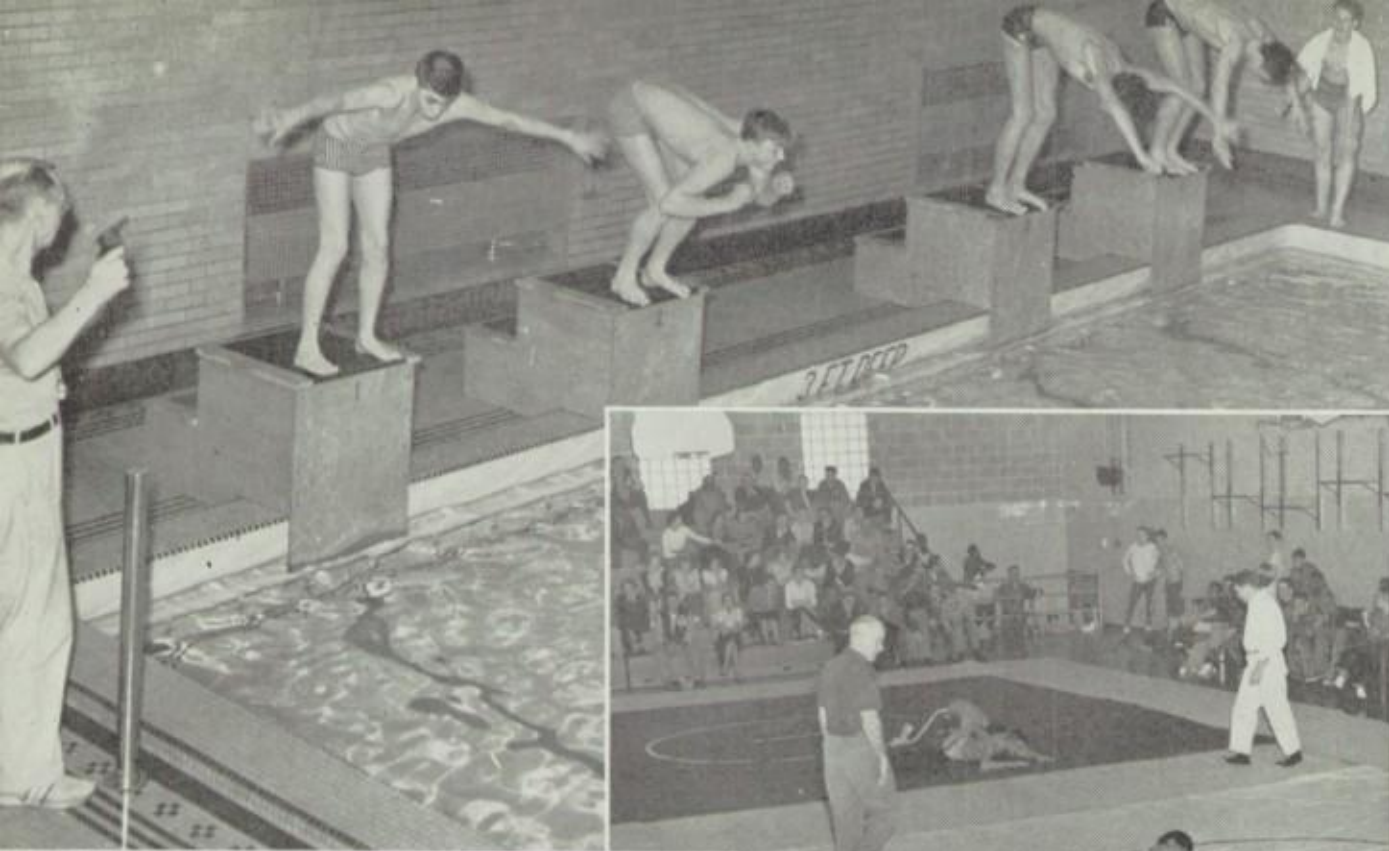

In non-league competition the Bucs fell to La Grange twice, but defeated Leyden once to end with a 6-7 record. Coach John Tiefenthal predicted a good showing for next year's sophs.

SOPHOMORES

Proviso's second-year cagers finished the season in fourth place with a record of seven wins and seven losses. Two 20-point victories over Niles and two 3-point victories over New Trier highlighted the season. The sophs won their two non-conference games with Thornton (Harvey) and Elgin. The sophs pushed 789 points through the net this season while surrendering 761 to their opponents.

VARSITY

Proviso's varsity grapplers compiled another fine record for Coaches Slimmer and Marino, copping the Suburban League title. The matmen remained unbeaten in loop competition, emerging victorious in 13 of 14 dual meets. They succumbed only to Oak Lawn, 22-16. The Pirates also won the Waukegan Invitational Christmas Tournament, the toughest invitational tourney in the state. The Bucs finished second in the sectionals, although they placed 11 men, a new record. Dick Kampf took a second and Dom Fatta a fourth as the Slimmermen tied for thirteenth in the state meet.

During the season the Pirates defeated five of the top six teams in the state meet, either in dual meets or in the Waukegan tournament, but fell below expectations in the sectional and state meets. The fact that Proviso excelled as a team rather than as individuals accounts for this.

FROSH-SOPH

Under the expert guidance of Coach Kassel, the frosh-soph matmen steam-rolled 14 straight opponents and won the Suburban League title.

Varsity

Proviso's varsity mermen improved on their previous year's record to emerge from a successful season with a 6-5 slate. The Bucs dropped three of their first four encounters, but rebounded to score victories in five of the remaining seven. The proteges of coaches Hagen and Jenks displayed depth in dual meet competition; however, they were able to nab only sixth place in the initial Riverside Invitational meet and a fifth in the Suburban League meet. The aquamen stroked to a third place in a quadrangular meet at Rockford, thwarting an Oak Park squad that had previously defeated them.

Frosh-Soph

The Frosh-Soph splashers did not fare as well as their big brothers, compiling a 4-7 record and finishing sixth in Suburban League competition. The underclassmen swamped Riverside and Kenosha and managed to defeat Morton and Waukegan.

Varsity Baseballers Capture League,

VARSITY BASEBALL

As the Provi goes to press, the varsity nine remains undefeated. Doc Appleton's diamond men have already clinched the Suburban League title with a 10-0-1 record. Among their major accomplishments, the Pirates dealt Austin, last year's City League champs, a double defeat, 15-1 and 3-1. Morton provided the only blot in the Buc record book by tying them 2-2. With fingers crossed the Blue-and-White hope to capture their second state title in three years.

 Second row: Coach H. Rattenbury, Parrilli, Zimmerman, Marsik, T. Johnson, Prescott.
 Third row: Koebler, Frandsen, Scherer, P. Johnson, Saputo, Dwoinen, Clifford.
 Back row: Woehler, Gust, Macdonald, Kolchowsky, Pintozzi, Mgr. Olson.

SOPHOMORES

The record thus far compiled by Proviso's sophs points to a rosy future. Under the able tutelage of Coach Rattenbury they had accumulated four wins against only one loss as the Provi goes to press. Such stars as Clifford, Gust, Donato, and Murphy display promise of future varsity berths.

FRESHMEN

The first-year pillpounders have mimicked their big brother sophs in the loss column as they too possess but one defeat. Coach Tiefenthal's "men" won their first three encounters, defeating Oak Park, Morton, and Leyden. Jable, D. Schuppe, R. Schuppe, Liddell, Hovorka, Wauer, Grove, and Landa have shown particular talent to date.

Front row: Mgr. Meiers, Hovorka, Finch, Williams, Jable, Ward, Serynek, Mgr. Frank.
 Second row: Mgr. Edwards, Landa, Mills, Grady, R. Schuppe, Grove, B. Luehring, Freeman, D. Luehring.
 Third row: Coach Tiefenthal, Liddell, Puck, Bimler, Kucik, Hicks, Manweiler, Mgr. Luurs.
 Back row: Nimmer, D. Schuppe, Lauer, T. Schuppe, Woods, Mogavero, Scavo.

Racketmen, Duffers Display Improvement

TENNIS

Despite the tennis squad's mediocre one and four record as the Provi goes to press, Coach Ernest's netmen display greater depth and ability than any squad in recent years. The team, led by Terry Terrana, suffers from lack of experience, the seven starters including five juniors. Three of the four Buc reversals came by 3-2 scores. A large sophomore turnout and Spencer Farley's amazing improvement, along with the performance of several good juniors, promise a good squad next year.

GOLF

Proviso's 1955 edition of the golf squad jumped off to a good start as the boys smeared Riverside-Brookfield 14½-1½ for their first win. The triumph was short lived though, for they fell prey to a powerful Leyden squad. York proved a little too much for the Bucs, edging them in an 18-hole affair.

After defeating Morton, the squad enjoyed pleasant prospects as New Trier, possible state champions, seemed to be the only other threat. Coach U. C. Foster calls Leyden "the strongest team in this area."

Led by Illingsworth, Woelke, Schultz, and Anderson, the linksters figure to do a fine job this season and should place high in the running.

VARSITY TENNIS

Front row: Gullquist, Wentland, Miller, Updike.
Middle row: Elkins, Jacobs, Nemecek, Terrana, Hegy.
Back row: Coach Ernest, Ostermann, Lundberg, Cooper, Mulholland.

FROSH-SOPH TENNIS

Middle row: Ehlert, Sinder, Boe, Poruk.
Back row: Krosp, Zilic, Kappel, Mgr. Young.

Front row: R. Yundt, Williams, Snead, Yano.
Back row: T. Illingsworth, L. Illingsworth, D. Yundt, Anderson, Schultz, Woelke, Griep, Milles, Kulat, Coach Foster.

Trackmen Anticipate State Meet

VARSITY TRACK

Front row: Osis, Kyanka, Hill, Stokes, Unverzagt, Gibson.

Second row: Hicks, Vincent, Bearwald, Petersen, Walsh, Quinton, Lofgren, Mgr. McCleary.

Third row: Coach Murphy, McGavock, Spurr, Lund, Pomilia, Moore, Pletta, Bimler, Fleig, Cross, Coach Griep.

FROSH-SOPH TRACK

Second row: Mgr. Davis, Schmolke, Doerzaph, Nield, Kernan, Vorreyer, Walker, Crawl, Smith, Mgr. Schatz.

Third row: Bornzin, Baur, Wise, Dressander, Hopkins, O'Bradovich, Hanlon, Gorge, Ryburn, Hardy, Panzer.

Back row: Echleberger, Phillips, Tooth, Sieg, Osborn, Woehler, Fulton, Dunwoody, Sprain, Patrick, Moore, Prozio.

After a successful indoor season, highlighted by a fourth place finish in the Oak Park Relays, the Buc ovalers turned their talents toward the sunshine, and as the Provi goes to press they possess an unblemished dual meet record. Included in this undefeated skein is a 60-58 victory over a power-laden Oak Park squad. This victory occurred at a time when the Pirate tracksters had not defeated their rivals for five years. Coach Griep has hopes of garnering several points in the upcoming state meet.

A strong soph aggregation looks toward the Suburban League meet with anticipation as they have thus far toppled all of their dual meet opponents.

Up and over . . . and on to the next.
